Music Moves Me

Where does music begin for the young musician?

For Lionel Dauriac, the answer lies not only in the requirement of a good ear, but as he states in his "Essai sur l'esprit musica," the musical ear acts as a faculty of the soul.

With a desire to target students of upper elementary through high school age, Music Moves Me is a movement/playing class designed to build skills important to the musician for whom weekly lessons do not fully allow.

Such skills include:

- Everything we do, we do with our bodies.
- Timing is what really makes the difference between success and failure in all that we do.
- Emotions make all learning possible. (Stanley Greenspan)
- I can learn from and be inspired by the experience of others.
- In performing for others, I have a unique opportunity to learn more about myself!
